CALIFORNIA STATE REQUIRED NOTICE

Under California law you have the right to request a confidential communication for your Medical Information. You may specify the format in which you would like the information provided. The request shall apply to all communications that disclose medical information or provider name and address related to medical services, including any Sensitive Services, you have received. The confidential communication request shall be valid until you revoke the request, or you submit a new confidential communication request.

> "Medical information" means any individually identifiable information, in electronic or physical form, in possession of or derived from a provider of health care, health care service plan, pharmaceutical company, or contractor regarding a patient's medical history, mental or physical condition, or treatment.

> "Individually identifiable" means that the medical information includes or contains any element of personal identifying information sufficient to allow identification of the individual, such as the patient's name, address, electronic mail address, telephone number, or social security number, or other information that, alone or in combination with other publicly available information, reveals the identity of the individual."

> "Sensitive services" means all health care services related to mental or behavioral health, sexual and reproductive health, sexually transmitted infections, substance use disorder, gender affirming care, and intimate partner violence, and includes services described in Sections 6924, 6925, 6926, 6927, 6928, 6929, and 6930 of the Family Code, and Sections 121020 and 124260 of the Health and Safety Code, obtained by a patient of any age at or above the minimum age specified for consenting to the service specified in the section."

The request may be submitted in writing by any of the following means:
